An estate of distinction in Derbyshire

"Welcome to 'Locko', which has been in my family since my ancestor John Lowe acquired the Estate in 1747 during the reign of George II and it remains a family home. The name 'Locko' is derived partly from the old French 'loques' meaning rags, and in the 13th century there was a hospital for lepers, built by the order of St Lazarus, behind the house you see today.

Locko Hall is a Grade II* listed building which has been beautifully restored over the last 50 years. The stunning parkland was laid out in 1792 by William Emes who landscaped much in the style of Capability Brown.

After looking through our website we hope you will agree that the fine setting and unique atmosphere of Locko is the perfect venue for any special occasion."

An exclusive wedding location

Locko Park is licensed to hold civil wedding ceremonies in part of the main hall itself and the front park is also available for the siting of a marquee should you wish to also hold your reception here. This location enjoys beautiful views over the lake and looking back towards the hall. There are many scenic and attractive areas for photo opportunities, particularly the elegant Italiante Rose Garden.

The number of weddings held at Locko is limited and, as a matter of principle, we only accommodate one per day, so you will have the exclusive use of the agreed area and our undivided attention. The charges are for the hire of the venue only, as we do not offer any 'packages'. We have found this arrangement ideally suits those of you who prefer to have complete autonomy over the way your day is organised. The two rooms available for ceremonies differ in their style and size:

The magnificent dining room decorated in traditional style with rich colours and stunning panel-painted ceiling is warm and more intimate. It is ideal for the smaller ceremonies and seats up to 60 people.

The billiard room which is light and airy and also has a beautiful painted ceiling is of larger proportions and can seat up to 100 people.

The Picture Gallery, with an impressive glass atrium is charming and bright and leads onto the beautiful porticoed entrance, and is perfect for your post-ceremony reception of canapés and champagne!

If you are interested in holding your wedding and/or reception at Locko Park and would like more information, please contact us.

A versatile corporate venue

Conveniently located and within easy access to the M1 and Derby/East Midlands parkway railway stations, Locko Park has been the venue for many diverse and varied events, such as VIP events, team-building, commemorative or Christmas dinners. The charges are for the hire of the venue only, as we do not offer any 'packages'. We have found this arrangement ideally suits those of you who prefer to have complete autonomy over the way your event is organised.

If you want a venue that adds a touch of class, any one of our three function rooms, which vary in size and style, will not disappoint:,

The beautiful parkland setting is an ideal venue for many types of events and in the past horse trials, country fairs and charity events have all be held at Locko Park with great success. Should you be looking for a venue for a large number of people this area is perfect. Each event is tailored to suit individual requirements, therefore pricing will vary.

Please contact us by telephone or email if you would like to discuss cost.
